Double death probe

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

DETECTIVES have confirmed the body of a murdered man lay undetected inside a wheelie bin outside a Luton flat as officers investigated the death of a woman inside.

The woman has now been named as Tabussum Winning (inset).

A major murder investigation into the two deaths is now underway.

Police had been searching for clues to how the 34-year-old's death occurred after her body was found at the Essex Close flat on October 10.

It wasn't until seven days later that a man's body was discovered in a wheelie bin outside the home by a member of the public.

Mark Kerry, 52, stumbled across the corpse – which was wrapped in cling film and a duvet – as he was helping another man use the bin to transport a TV.

He said: "It was pretty gruesome. I couldn't really see who it was but he was covered in blood."

A man arrested in connection with the two deaths was released on bail by Bedfordshire Police on Friday morning.

Detective Inspector Fraser Wylie, who is investigating, said: "We have a dedicated team of detectives that are committed to establishing the circumstances of the deaths."

"We're particularly keen to speak to anyone who saw a black wheelie bin being taken along the street."

Call 101 quoting Operation Connery if you can help the police.

Paedophile who followed kids jailed for sick fantasies

A MAN who fantasised about raping children and followed them to their homes has been jailed.

Stephen Kelly (pictured), 50, of Montrose Avenue, Luton, was already listed as a sex offender, and pleaded guilty to attempting to arrange or facilitate a sexual offence against a child, as well as four counts of breaching his Sexual Harm Prevention Order.

Kelly was sentenced to 12 years at Luton Crown Court on Wednesday, admitting that he waited outside the home of a girl he spotted in town.

An NSPCC spokesman added: "A dangerous individual such as Kelly who holds abhorrent fantasies about children needs to undergo treatment in jail to make sure he is not a threat when released."

More reaction to the sentence can be found at luton-dunstable.co.uk

Editor's Letter

One empty unit gone - but is this quids in?

CHARITY shops, pound stores and bookies: three things the internet will never replace.

The first employs volunteers and will always have a faithful brigade of followers with jumble-sifting skills; the second is so cheap you couldn't compete with delivery costs online; the third is as much a social venue as a place to gamble.

If internet retail continues its stronghold over town centres, could our high streets be packed with this unholy trinity of stalwarts 50 years from now?

Would anyone care?

As the residents of Dunstable have shown this week reacting to plans for a new Poundworld store (see page 7), the battle to keep our town centres special is far from over.

One could argue the prospect of jobs and an empty unit filled should trump all else. But what are the prospects for all town centre jobs if residents are not allowed to demand the best?

It will be local shoppers - and their children and grandchildren - who will keep our high streets alive.

Disruption as Royal Mail staff take up picket lines

BY KATY HALLAM
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A UNION has warned of further disruption to Luton's postal service after hundreds of Royal Mail workers walked out on strike earlier this week.

Neal Kidwell, branch secretary for the Communication Workers Union's Eastern No 6 branch, said more picket lines were being considered 'if genuine talks are not offered by management'.

The warning came as 250 Royal Mail staff from delivery offices in

PLACARDS: Royal Mail workers took to the picket line on Wednesday

Luton and Legrave downed tools on Wednesday in a dispute over the way staff are treated.

The union cited issues including suspensions at the sites and an increasing and unfair workload.

More than 90 per cent of the union's members voted in favour of industrial action - which saw homes and businesses affected in the LU1, LU2, LU3 and LU4 postcodes - after CWU claim negotiations with the company broke down.

Mr Kidwell added: "Postal workers in Luton are at breaking point. There have been at least six serious cases at the delivery office in recent weeks, including staff being suspended, and things can't go on.

"Postal workers are in fear of their jobs and many are routinely doing unpaid overtime to cope with unmanageable workloads because they fear management will not listen to their concerns."

A Royal Mail spokesman apologise to customers for any disruption to their mail services.

"Royal Mail is fully committed to resolving our colleagues' concerns in co-operation with the Communication Workers Union."

Drew came to rescue of stabbed schoolboy

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsonmedia.co.uk

A TEENAGE Army Cadet who helped a stricken schoolboy who had been stabbed on his way home has been rewarded for his efforts.

Drew Stent, 16, from the Legrave detachment of the Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire Army Cadet Force, was walking home from school when he came across another schoolboy who had been stabbed four times with a large kitchen knife during a scuffle.

While one person dealt with the three stab wounds to the side of the boy's torso, Drew dealt with the leg wound that had been missed. All four wounds were severe bleeds.

He made sure that the emergency services were called, checked there were no other injuries and reassured people on the scene.

When the paramedics arrived he sent bystanders to help carry their equipment and assisted the police.

Drew's quick thinking was recognised by HM Lord-Lieutenant of Bedfordshire, Helen Nellis, at a recent honours presentation ceremony held at Luton Hoo.

Also attending were the High Sheriff of Bedfordshire Charles Whitbread, the Mayor of Luton Councillor Tahir Khan and the Chairman of Central

REWARDED: Drew Stent alongside Lord-Lieutenant Helen Nellis

Bedfordshire Council, David Bowater. Mrs Nellis said after the ceremony: "I was really pleased to be able to recognise and publicly acknowledge the award of the St John Ambulance Meritorious Service Certificate and Bar to Cadet Drew Stent."

"Drew's award equates to the Queen's Commendation for Bravery and his instinctive actions, drawing on his training, have been rightly recognised."

"This is an inspirational example of bravery shown by a young person."

Scientifically Validated "Higher Diagnostic Standards" for Back Pain and Sciatica Now Available Near Luton

FOUND the missing link for getting rid of back pain and sciatica

Advertising Feature

Let us take care of it for you. We can't make promises but our success rate is 88%!

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and/or sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this painful spinal condition... And it can really get you down.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain and numbness and tingling through the buttock, leg all the way down to the tip of the toes are all some of the most common symptoms.

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting and even significant disability. If not taken care of properly it can become progressively more common and worse as time goes on. Even if it goes away temporarily from time to time.

Despite being a common problem it's difficult to get a cure because most so called "experts" don't have access to the right technology or don't even understand how to diagnose it correctly, and further completely lack the knowledge to repair the damage causing the pain even if they know how to diagnose the cause.

But you can get specialist help...

Recent advances in the diagnosis and treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre where there is a team of fully trained spinal care specialists that have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

According to the team, "We use a combination of carefully selected diagnostic technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica. The technology has been developed to measure the functional problem leading to the pain a person is suffering, it is more accurate than the usual tests you would get which are usually done lying down and are often meaningless. We also have a completely unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

The diagnostic accuracy of this technology and excellent results of this treatment have been validated in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 88% on average.

And because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report relief beginning to take shape almost immediately.

Your personal invitation for a comprehensive consultation and examination to pinpoint the cause of your low back pain and sciatica...

QUIDS IN: The Quadrant, where the new Poundworld shop (inset) will be based

Thrift store plan takes a pounding

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

POUNDWORLD is set to open a new shop in Dunstable - but some residents worry it's just more of the same.

The chain store will be the third 'pound store' to launch in the town when it opens its doors by the end of the year at The Quadrant.

Shoppers already have the choice of heading along to Poundland or the 99p Store.

Although it means one less vacant store, and the creation of 30 jobs for locals, a number of residents have already expressed concern at the fact a third such store will be moving into the town.

Kimberley Jade Eckersley told Luton on Sunday: "We're missing out on so many shops and there's three of the same shop. What a waste of time."

Others reacted on the About Dunstable Facebook page, with Ruth Wake saying: "We have loads of pound shops already!"

Bernadette Lay-Flurrie wrote: "Don't any other stores want to come here?"

But Tara Day added: "We may not want or need another cheap shop but at least it's bringing jobs to Dunstable."

The news comes just weeks after LoS reported that Dunstable Town Council was investing in the retail on offer in the town with its High Street Improvement Scheme.

Poundworld meanwhile is looking forward to opening its store, which will be located in Broadwalk North, next to Boots and Clintons.

Chris Bennett, PR manager at Poundworld, said: "We're excited to be opening our first ever store in Dunstable, bringing amazing value to local shoppers and helping them make big savings on their weekly shop."

Delight Wedlinka, a Polish delicatessen in High Street North, Dunstable, was taken to court by Central Bedfordshire Council's food safety team.

The store's owners,

BAPM Foods Ltd, pleaded guilty at Luton Magistrates' Court on October 3 to failing to have a food safety management system in place. It was also found guilty two days later of not having enough wash-basins for staff to wash hands - with the facilities labelled 'inadequate'.

Cop abused trust to swindle £31k

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A POLICE officer in Luton swindled more than £30,000 from a 'vulnerable' cleaner - before blowing it on a luxury holiday and gambling.

PC Paul Whitehead targeted the trusting and vulnerable dyslexic 56-year-old, who had worked as a cleaner at the Luton police station where Whitehead was stationed.

After the victim, Paul Wilson, retired in February 2015 from his job of 37 years, Whitehead illegally used the police national computer to discover his address.

He then befriended him, started sending him flirtatious texts with kisses and over several months received £31,215 from him.

Whitehead, 32, blew the money on a luxury trip to Bali, car repairs and trips to the casino.

He had pleaded not guilty to fraud by misrepresentation and to securing unauthorised access to computer material. But as his trial was due to begin at Cambridge Crown Court on Tuesday he changed his pleas to guilty.

The court heard Mr Wilson

JAILED: PC Paul Whitehead, 32

has had to return to his cleaning job at Luton because of the money he has lost.

"I feel humiliated by what's happened to me because I felt we were friends," he said in an impact statement read to the court.

"He bullied me - it's made me anxious about my money. I now have to work for my old age. I will never lend money again and never trust anyone. This makes me sad."

Prosecutor Roxanne Aisthorpe said Mr Wilson was vulnerable because he was 'very loving, very trusting' and struggled to read, write and sometimes with comprehension. He had an inheritance from his parents, who he had not ever told he was gay.

She said: "Whitehead used the fact that Mr Wilson has dromantic feelings towards him to his own gain."

As Judge Jonathan Cooper jailed Whitehead for a total of 67 months, he told him: "You abused his trust, relying in part on your position as a serving police officer. He trusted you as a friend."

"He has had to return to work where you first met him. He will remain working there. You will be serving a prison sentence."

The judge also ordered an investigation of Whitehead's finances under the confiscation of assets procedure so Mr Wilson could be repaid.

Speaking after the hearing, assistant chief constable Mike Colbourne said Bedfordshire Police 'acted swiftly', adding: "We expect our officers to act with the utmost integrity so it is particularly disappointing that a member of our workforce has behaved in this way."

Hatters investigating homophobic abuse

 BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@snmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town FC has said it will be difficult to punish a small number of Hatters fans who shouted 'totally unacceptable' homophobic abuse at a recent away match.

The Hatters confirmed that because the chants were not reported to stewards on the day, it will be hard to take action against the individuals concerned – and urged supporters to inform a steward or club official if they see fans misbehaving.

The Football Association has now launched its own enquiry into the events at last Saturday's match against Leyton Orient at the Matchroom Stadium.

Despite being unreported on the day, an online complaint was made to Kick It Out – an organisation tackling discrimination in football.

Club officials announced on Monday that they would be working with the fellow League Two side to investigate the chants, aimed at a group of men watching the game from a flat located in the corner of the stadium that overlooks the pitch.

UNDER SCRUTINY:

Since then the FA has asked both clubs to submit their observations, with FA chairman Greg Clarke referencing the incident in a meeting with the government's Culture, Media and Sport committee this week – saying any proven abuse was something the FA needed to 'come down on like a ton of bricks'.

Bedfordshire Police has also begun its own enquiries.

A Luton Town spokesman said: "With the incident not being reported to anyone in the stadium at the time, it makes retrospectively identifying and punishing any individual or groups difficult. "Any supporter, should they see or hear of any such behaviour, should inform a steward or club official so action can be taken against the culprit immediately."

"Discrimination of any sort is completely unacceptable and has no place within football and at Luton Town."

READALLOVER

IT'S behind you! (Oh no it isn't).

This week's Read All Over comes to you courtesy of actor Kevin Brewis, who is playing Sarah the Cook in this year's pantomime production of Dick Whittington at Milton Keynes Theatre.

At least we know the answer to the question what do you find when you set off in search of streets paved with gold? A copy of Luton On Sunday of course.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Chief Fire Officer Paul Fuller

Striving for safety during scarefest

HALLOWEEN is fast approaching - and Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service's Chief Fire Officer Paul Fuller is among those looking forward to the festivities. Here he gives his best advice on how to stay safe so everyone can have a happy holiday.

HALLOWEEN is a time to celebrate and it's becoming more and more popular each year.

Children especially like to dress up and create a spooky atmosphere and candles are often used to light pumpkins and enhance the mood.

Unfortunately the combination of naked candles, floaty outfits and children can be a recipe for tragedy and whilst I don't want to spoil anyone's fun, I hope that by highlighting the potential dangers we can make sure that everyone has a happy and safe Halloween.

I am a trustee of the children's Burns Trust and I have seen first hand the horrific burns that can be caused by flammable fancy dress costumes.

Unfortunately these are classed as toys and are not subject to the same requirements as clothing.

I am working with the British Standards Institution (BSI) to address this issue and update the relevant European standard (EN 71-2) as soon as possible.

Children and adults need to be aware of the risks of being burnt.

Fancy dress costumes, including masks and headresses, are increasingly being worn not only at times like Halloween but also throughout the year as they dress up as film characters and superheroes.

It's not uncommon for them to wear these costumes to bed and this is increasing the chance of a terrible accident. A young child's skin is 15 times thinner than an adult's and they don't know they should pull away from heat. A burn or scald at this age could need years of repeated surgery as the child grows, because scarred tissue does not grow with them. We need to make sure that we protect children from this painful life.

The dangers can be greatly reduced by using LED candles and tea lights as a safe alternative in your home and in your pumpkins at Halloween.

BIG PLANS: Luton Town chairman Gary Sweet next to a model of the proposed new Luton Town Stadium

Stadium sorrows

I'M not really a fan of football. But even I'm starting to get annoyed and fed up with the do's and don'ts about where to build Luton's new stadium.

There are only two things that Luton Borough Council care about. The airport, and the Mall shopping centre. Nothing else matters.

No one wanted the Arndale, as I still call it. It's a horrible place to shop. It's got the most boring collection of shops under one roof, unless you like coffee.

People who live in Dunstable or Toddington go to Milton Keynes. Stopsley side go to Stevenage, or Hitchin. Why don't they bulldoze the Mall down and build the new stadium there?

Now there's food for thought.
John Tucker
Bracklesham Gardens, Luton

All in the numbers

ACCORDING to the article on page 4 about the 37 per cent drop in arrests of children, the consensus is that these have dropped because of improved staff training etc.

But the statistics could also be read that the reason for the fewer arrests is that the police are so understaffed that there are fewer officers available to catch them and therefore the culprits have more chance of escaping.

Surely the only time to brag about the lower arrest rates is when the police force is still well manned and the arrests are lower because then the statistics have some meaning.

The problem with statistics is that they can be read in a number of ways depending on the view of the person reading the statistics and therefore are meaningless in themselves without other data to support such claims.

Richard Kaminski,
Tintagel Close, Luton

Day of the Zombies

I AM writing to you to say how brave Cllr M Garrett is to speak up regarding the truly horrific state of Luton from Hightown to the parameter of the stricken town.

You have to run a gauntlet of beggars, dogs, duvets and blankets, dealers right in your face plus all the cans and cartons left after people leave gifts for them and the stench is overpowering. This is from the train bridge, you then proceed along the walkway leading to Bute St and again may encounter up to six or eight more beggars, both male and female, and their various blankets.

Once in the main town centre, well it's like the day of the zombies. Heaps of filthy bed clothing on the steps of the old cinema again, with dozens of food wrappings and disposable cups.

You will see it all...ambulances tending drunks in various stages of lucidness, dogs and more dogs, some very dangerous looking, others staggering along with bundles of blankets, sitting outside a fast food shop asking for change, and other types begging right into your face often with small children and the very

London Luton Airport Mass Passenger Transit System

Public consultation

London Luton Airport Limited (LLAL) is planning to build a new Mass Passenger Transit (MPT) system to service London Luton Airport.

The MPT is being developed to improve the passenger experience and encourage passengers to travel to and from the airport via a more sustainable and efficient means of transport.

The MPT will be a fully automated and driverless system, approximately 2.2km in length, and will provide fast, frequent and reliable transfers for passengers between Luton Airport Parkway station and the terminal in around five minutes, 24 hours a day.

In order to deliver the project, planning permission will be sought from Luton Borough Council and Central Bedfordshire Council and a planning application will be submitted at the end of January 2017.

Subject to planning permission being granted, construction will begin in late 2017 and the MPT system will be operational by 2021.

In advance of the planning application being submitted, we would like your feedback on the project. Public consultation events will be held on the following dates:

- Wednesday 2 November 2016 between 4pm and 8pm at the Hampton by Hilton Hotel by Luton Parkway Station, 42-50 Kimpton Road, Luton LU2 0NB; and
- Saturday 5 November 2016 between 10am and 2pm at Luton Central Library, St George's Square, Luton LU1 2NG.

The events are an opportunity to review plans for the project, speak to members of the project team and provide your feedback.

Information on the project can be found at www.llal.org.uk. If you are unable to attend any of the events, copies of our information leaflet and feedback form will be available online. Please submit your completed feedback form online by 16 November 2016.

Time is running out to nominate heroes

THERE'S just a week left to get your nominations in for the town's seventh Luton's Best Awards.

The awards, organised by Love Luton and sponsored by Luton on Sunday, are a way to recognise unsung heroes in the town who selflessly go above and beyond expectations.

Let's take a look at some of last year's winners to get you inspired:

Luton's Most Outstanding Citizen for 2016 Award Sponsored by The Mayor of Luton

This award seeks to recognise an outstanding citizen of any age group or walk of life who has shown loyalty and support to the town, or promoted and enhanced our reputation locally and nationally.

For example, this person could be a member of the business community, sporting, or community sector, anyone who has benefited the people of Luton, this could be in a professional capacity, volunteering or local charity work.

It could be a neighbour a relative or anyone who, in your view, typifies the very best of Luton.

This will be a highly contested award that seeks to recognise Luton's Most Outstanding Citizen in 2016.

Last year's winner was Phyl Rainey. Phyl has dedicated many years of her life to the community of Luton.

She has shown loyalty and support to the town through her work with Signposts and promotes a positive image of Luton both locally and nationally.

Without Phyl, Signposts wouldn't be the organisation they are. One of her biggest successes is her support and dedication to the Love Luton campaign. She simply believes in Luton and giving back.

The People's Choice Award Sponsored by Luton On Sunday

The readers of the Luton on Sunday will have the opportunity to pick the winner they feel is most deserving.

On Sunday, November 6 the newspaper will announce the shortlisted candidates. You will have until Thursday, December 1 December to pick your worthy winner.

You can do this by visiting luton-dunstable.co.uk

Jamie Kelly, who was outstanding teacher, won the People's Choice award last year. Jamie scooped more than 50 per cent of the votes.

This award really does reiterate the reason why he won outstanding teacher, and shows his popularity amongst his pupils, colleagues and not forgetting the parents!

■ To nominate someone online visit: loveluton.org.uk/lutonsbestawards

Or you can collect a form in person at locations across Luton, including the Town Hall and library.

Nominations close on Sunday, October 30 – so make sure you act fast!

NO TO KNIVES: Bedfordshire Police's crackdown

Cops urge 'bin blades' in knife crime clamp down

BEDFORDSHIRE Police officers will visit schools across the county to deliver workshops on knife crime as part of the force's two-week amnesty.

The Operation Sceptre initiative launched on Monday and people are being encouraged to surrender knives 'so that no-one else loses their life because of a blade'. During the force's last surrender in February, more than 2,000 knives were handed in.

Speeding up help for abuse victims

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A NEW device is being given to victims of domestic abuse - allowing them to get in touch with police immediately.

The item, which Luton on Sunday is not naming so as to protect potential victims, can be triggered and initiates a 999 call immediately.

Activating the device alerts the Emergency Call System and will allow the user's details and location to be found, saving the police time in reaching the victim.

Bedfordshire Police has been trialing six of the devices since August, while 30 are due to go live at some point next month.

Those who use the device will be subject to a review every two weeks analysing their risk levels.

The move comes after Bedfordshire Police was criticised in a December 2015 report by Her Majesty's Inspectorate of Constabulary (HMIC), in which the force was graded 'inadequate' for its 'serious weakness' in protecting vulnerable people from harm.

Its response to domestic abuse victims was also 'a cause of concern'.

Katie Morgan is the chief executive of Stepping Stones (Luton) which has worked with hundreds of domestic abuse victims across Bedfordshire.

She said: "We are supportive of measures which help women feel safe and assist them to get urgent support from the police if needed."

"As such, these devices have the potential to be a valuable addition to local services."

"However, they are part of a solution."

"It remains critical that local organisations continue to work together to focus on domestic abuse prevention and broader options for support which enable victims to successfully rebuild their lives and overcome trauma."

SPOOKS & SPARKLERS!

It was said that on 'All Hallows Eve' the transitional change between life and death became blurred, so the dead could return to earth and try to become reborn.

Anyone venturing abroad on this night would wear a hideous masks to disguise themselves and try to scare off any of these wandering spirits they may encounter. The fears associated with Halloween ebbed away, Halloween began to be celebrated in a spirit of fun. Today pumpkin lamps are made, and children dress up and visit friends and neighbours demanding a treat, the penalty for refusal being a trick or practical joke of some sort.

unfortunate mentally ill wandering around. Plus the chuggers in your face at your every turn. They take up the benches, and pergolas.

When you reach Park Square after more encounters with beggars or people offering you phones, watches etc and waiting for a bus you will encounter groups of men exposing themselves and urinating, fighting, vomiting and drinking as you have to await your bus.

This could be in your face for up to an hour and often little children/babies with you. No wonder there were a colony of rats with all the filth around there. Sadly even in the Arndale they up seats and lie comatose on the benches and people have to try and find someone in authority to move them on.

It goes without saying many people will not shop in Luton and you hear them saying they dread and hate the town centre and feel frightened...wonderfully conducive for business isn't it?

There are many outlets for these people to get help, who get a lot of donations but the situation does not change. This has been going on for years and millions must have been spent but on what? Yet they all can afford very expensive beers and spirits, and laugh at the paltry little signs proclaiming alcohol free zones. The council and police do not appear to be concerned really, as a lot could be arrested for their persistent begging and harassment.

FINE SIGN: A Designated Public Place notice in Luton Town Centre

We need a few more Cllr Garretts who have the courage to speak up and break this loony left mould. If you dare to speak up you are labelled a bigot, but what about the general public who have to live with it with no option?

Calais concerns

FEW can avoid feeling pity and even anger at the plight of all the unaccompanied children that are stranded in the Calais camp - known as 'the jungle'.

Alone, malnourished and vulnerable to child traffickers the poor kids must be terrified. Many claim they have relatives - even parents - in the UK that they are anxious to join. So what kind of parents are they that knowingly leave their children defenceless in this kind of hell?

If the kids can't get to the UK why on earth doesn't mum or dad go over to them? Surely it can't be because the parents themselves have no right to be here and risk being barred from re-entry?

Even so, I'd expect any reasonable parent to sacrifice their own comfort in order to be able to protect their child.

Ron Turvey,
Stanmore Crescent, Luton

Remember soldiers

SINGER Lily Allen visited Calais jungle camp. I won't knock her for that. It shows that her heart is in the right place.

But she went too far when she took the British people's name in vain. She has no right apologising on our behalf. Like it's our fault anyway.

On November 13 it will be Remembrance Sunday. We will be honouring those who sacrificed their lives to secure and protect our freedom. I hope she will be at the cenotaph crying for the fallen soldiers. I doubt it.

Old fairytales get a scary new rethink

PERFORMANCE poet Joseph Coelho unravels the true stories behind happily ever in 'Fairytales Gone Bad'. Joseph unwinds familiar fairytales to create fresh contemporary classics in two enchanting performances for young and old alike. The shows both take place on Thursday (October 27). The first - Grannylocks / The Monstrous Duckling - at 11:30am sees a father returns home with a magical cloak.

A cloak that hides a story - did you know that the ugly duckling was never ugly?

He was truly monstrous! Or that Goldilocks was never a tale about a little girl, it was always a tale about a granny; a mean, thieving old granny who has plans for something quite nasty! Then at 2:30pm Zombie-rella / Blood-red Hood explores the true tale of Cinderella, where she dies and becomes a zombie and falls in love with a vampire prince! And there's Little Red Riding Hood, the wolf-hunter who never leaves home without her shield, axe and blood-red stained cloak! "I was interested in re-examining the morals of these stories," said Joseph. "You always have a beautiful princess, but in 2016 we can do a bit better." Tickets are available for £7 for both shows from lutonculture.com or call the box office on 01582 878100.

HALLOWEEN

Chills and thrills

TIS the season to be scary - so get ready for plenty of pumpkins and spooky outfits as Halloween arrives.

There's loads to do in Luton and the surrounding area if you want to get your freak on, so here's just a few suggestions.

If you're looking for things to do with the kids, then Stockwood Discovery Centre will come alive from 11am until 3pm on Friday.

Head along to find all the spooks and thrills the museum has in store as you make a Halloween lantern, play apple bobbing and make something creepy to take home. Come in fancy dress - witches and ghosts are welcome for one day only!

There's no need to book but charges may apply for some activities.

Witches and wizards are also welcome at The Hat Factory on Saturday from 11am to 11:45, with Halloween themed dance classes and routines to learn from professional dancers. Book a place for £5 - call 01582 878100.

If adults fancy a Halloween boogie there are several Halloween discos to attend in town, including the High Town Club on Friday at 7pm, and the annual Halloween charity party at The Enterprise Bar, in Elizabeth Street, at 7pm on Saturday.

Finally, just a short drive away from Luton there are Ghosts, Ghouls and Goings On at Wrest Park near Silsoe.

Running from Monday until Sunday, entry to the grounds costs £28.10 for the family, and you can hunt for ghosts and make creepy crafts.

For an extra £4 you can also carve your own pumpkin.

THEATRE

Homelessness in the spotlight

A NEW play inspired by Ken Loach's seminal film Cathy Come Home will tackle the issues of homelessness head on when it arrives at The Hat Factory next week.

Cardboard Citizens' modern adaptation of the classic agenda-changing Loach masterpiece - currently celebrating its 50th anniversary - uses formerly homeless actors to reflect on the social and personal impact of spiralling living costs and people being forced to relocate away from London.

When Cathy Come Home was first broadcast in 1966, it sent shockwaves through British society.

It told the story of a young couple descending into poverty and homelessness after being evicted from their London flat.

Candid and poignant, Cathy is the latest work from award-winning playwright Ali Taylor.

As well as challenging the issues currently affecting society, there is also a debate scheduled as part of the performance, giving the audience the chance to have an interactive experience.

The content of the debate will deal with contemporary issues around housing which is of interest to students, activists, and socially-minded theatre goers.

As such, there will be complimentary tickets to the performance available for local homeless people and also those at risk of homelessness.

Cardboard Citizens has been making life-changing theatre with and for homeless people for the last 25 years.

It tells stories that need to be told, through theatre performed on the stage, in the street, in hostels, centres and prisons. This production has been researched with the support of housing and homelessness charity Shelter.

The show runs for two nights on Thursday, October 27 and Friday, October 28, with a 7.30pm start.

Tickets cost £10 or £8 for concessions.

For more information, or to book tickets, go online to lutonculture.com.

Home to very successful folk

FOLK-rock band Mumford and Sons' second studio album, Babel, has so far been their most successful topping the charts in both the UK and the US last year and selling over two million copies. It has also been the UK's fastest-selling rock album of the decade so far.

The band has come a long way since it formed in 2007. It now has three hugely successful albums under its belt, is internationally successful and has been given several gongs including a Brit and six Grammy Awards.

Mumford & Sons has also headlined at Glastonbury and its key members are collectively said to be worth £54 million, while founding musician Marcus Mumford recently married actress Carey Mulligan.

Not bad for a bunch of former students from SW London.

For the album cover of Babel the four founders – Marcus Mumford, Ben Lovett, Winston Marshall and Ted Dwane – all chose to pose in Charles Baker Place, a former industrial site in Wandsworth, SW London.

But the band might not recognise it now. Developer Chester Row has moved in and is renovating the existing Victorian buildings and constructing new homes as well.

Dedicated Mumford & Sons fans can snap up the properties now for sale including three-bedroom cottages, four-bedroom mews houses and five-bedroom townhouses.

Prices at the development start at £1.175m and rise to £2.7m for the larger properties.

It's got a nice landing

EDDIE the Eagle is the only British Olympic competitor to find fame and fortune from coming last in his chosen sport.

His persistence and hard work at mastering ski jumping during the run up to the 1988 Calgary Olympics, and subsequent plucky performance during two competitions, garnered Edwards millions of fans back at home and across the world.

But there's more to Eddie than meets the eye. Although he's a source of amusement here, before he took up jumping Edwards narrowly missed getting into the national downhill squad and is taken seriously in his adopted homes of Finland and Canada.

He's also recently been working in TV, including commentating on Channel 4's reality TV programme The Jump and also participating in a similar ITV programme called Splash with Tom Daley.

And this year a film based loosely on his Olympic story was released starring Taron Egerton and Hugh Jackman. Some of the scenes portraying Eddie's earlier life in Britain were filmed on a street in Harlsden, North London that has become a regular location for movie and music video makers.

As well Eddie the Eagle, Stephenson Street has featured in 1965 movie The Ipcress File starring Michael Caine, 2002 TV drama series Foyle's War, and the 1982 video for Madness's chart topper Our House.

■ A home is now for sale on Stephenson Street with agent emooov (03339 392719) for £595,000. A recently-renovated two-bedroom terraced house with a garden at the rear.

Gore's Italian cliff-hanger

Author, screenplay writer, intellectual and activist Gore Vidal was no stranger to controversy. He locked horns with actor Charlton Heston over his script for 1959 epic Ben Hur and courted controversy with his 1948 novel The City and the Pillars, which tackled homosexuality head on during a period of extreme conservatism.

He was also famous for his public and often violent spats with other leading American writers including Truman Capote and Norman Mailer.

Such notoriety persuaded Vidal to leave the US during the 1960s and move to Italy where he continued to work as a writer and screen player.

His home in Italy was La Rondinaia, a villa originally built for an English banker in the 1930s. It clings to the vertiginous Amalfi Coast in the region of Salerno, a strip of mountainous coastline that's both a UNESCO World Heritage Site and a hugely popular tourist destination, particularly among Americans.

Vidal lived with his partner Howard Austen at La Rondinaia for thirty years and entertained many of Hollywood's then A-listers including Lauren Bacall, Paul Newman, Susan Sarandon and even Hilary Clinton, before ill health forced him to return to America.

His footprint can still be seen at the property. He installed its pool from which bathers can enjoy panoramic views of the coast.

The four-storey property has 38 rooms including six bedrooms and seven bathrooms as well as a terrace, olive groves and extensive gardens.

■ It is for sale at approximately £19m through Italian property website www.gate-away.com

Home where Johnny went wild

TV presenter Johnny Morris was for decades the king of children's entertainment, famous for his story telling and animal impersonations on the hugely popular BBC programme Animal Magic.

For more than 400 episodes from 1962 until 1983 Morris was to be seen accompanied by his ring-tailed lemur, which spent much of each show on his shoulder.

The programme revolved around Morris being the uniformed and peak-capped 'keeper' and engaging in comic dialogue with animals from Bristol Zoo, whom he also voiced.

His style of TV presenting eventually fell out of fashion and the show was axed, but for many children who watched TV during its three-decade run, Morris introduced the natural world to them in an accessible and entertaining way.

His broadcasting story started in the Wiltshire village of Aldbourn near Marlborough. He lived in the village as a young man and used to tell stories in the local pub. During one beery session he was spotted by visiting BBC producer Desmond Hawkins who hired Morris on the spot.

He used Morris initially as a radio storyteller before moving him on to TV roles but, despite his later national appeal, Morris lived in Aldbourn all his life with wife Eileen, first in a small cottage and later in Pond House on The Square.

He died in 1999 following complications from diabetes.

His former home is now for sale. It has been substantially renovated since Morris lived there and the 18th century Grade II listed semi has four bedrooms and overlooks a duck pond.

■ It is for sale through agent Humberts (01672 519 222) for £560,000.

Scene of Luther's lofty finale

FOR FANS of TV crime drama Luther starring Idris Elba and Ruth Wilson the finale of the third series came to a climactic ending on a rooftop as Luther, Tom Marwood, Mary Day and Alice Morgan engaged in a mildly silly armed standoff.

The scene was designed to illustrate the troubled and violent detective's moral dilemma in the flesh; was he ultimately a good or a bad person?

Such ethical undercurrents have helped make John Luther's character and the series a huge hit both in the UK and in the US since it first aired in 2010, featuring gritty plots set against shadowy backdrops.

This included locations such as the City's Barbican Estate as well as in Elephant & Castle, Bethnal Green, Waterloo Station, Shoreditch and Docklands.

But the rooftop climax of series three was shot on a rooftop terrace within Keybridge, a large new apartment development being built near Vauxhall by developers FABRICA and Mount Anvil.

When completed it will be the tallest residential block in the UK and include 260 apartments.

"Vauxhall is establishing itself as a new creative hub and is home to a string of galleries including the Gasworks and the Amstel, as well as Damien Hirst's eagerly awaited Newport Street Gallery," says Rupert Dawes of Knight Frank.

Keybridge will also include access to facilities that work-obsessed Luther would never use including a gymnasium, spa, swimming pool, sauna and steam rooms.

Prices at the development start at £575,000 for a studio apartment. The first properties will be ready next year.

■ Call Knight Frank on 0207 861 5445 or visit the website www.keybridgelondon.com

Sell now and move by Christmas, says Connells

Connells' Six Week Challenge to sell your home in record time -

Local estate agency Connells are urging homeowners to start marketing their homes now if they want to be moved by Christmas. According to the branch, September is an ideal time to sell your home and by taking advantage of the company's 'Six Week Challenge', customers can successfully sell their property in record time and for the best price.

"September is an ideal time to sell your home," says Will Jones Branch Partner at Connells Stopsley "It's traditionally one of the busiest times of the year for us with the summer holidays over, and buyers returning to the market keen to purchase before the end of the year."

"Our 'Six Week Challenge' – where we use all our expertise and knowledge of the local housing market to help sellers secure a buyer in less than six weeks - has been hugely successful for our customers over the summer months," continues Will. "With even more properties required to meet current buyer demand, we would urge those interested in moving to make the most of a buoyant housing market and put us to the challenge!"

If you are thinking of selling your home, keen to move by Christmas and would like to be considered for Connells' 'Six Week Challenge', please contact the local branch on 01582 737069 or email: Stopsley@connells.co.uk

WANTED

1 hectare of bare land wanted for cash

I am after 1 hectare (2 1/2 acres) of land suitable to plant broadleaved trees on. This is a very long term project which could be used for screening or a shelter belt. I just need access and freehold. There is no hidden agendas as this planting will be governed and overseen by the forestry commission in the longer term.

Genuine offer that could even be used to enhance a shoot as I am totally open minded as to options in the future.

Nissan GT-R NISMO breaks cover

By: Stewart Smith

THE flagship of the Nissan GT-R range – the GT-R NISMO – will go on sale from November 1, with a price in the UK of £149,995.

The high-performance race car for the road has power supplied from a twin-turbocharged 3.8-litre V6 delivering 600bhp – 30bhp more than any other car in the range.

The engine features a pair of high-flow, large diameter turbochargers used in GT3 motor racing competition, and power is sent to all four wheels via a six-speed dual-clutch paddle shift gearbox.

Like the standard GT-R, the GT-R NISMO's front end features a new face with a dramatic new bumper.

However, for the NISMO it's made entirely from carbon fibre to reduce weight.

To help cool the car's high-output engine, the dark chrome V-motion grille has been enlarged to collect more air.

The redesign has been shaped to improve airflow around the vehicle and generate a high level of downforce, while at the same time directing air around the wheels to improve the aerodynamics.

The GT-R NISMO generates more downforce than any other Nissan production car to date, to create high-speed stability.

The performance of the all-wheel-drive GT-R NISMO has also been upgraded, thanks in part to the standard model's significantly reinforced body structure. This allowed the engineering team to further refine the GT-R NISMO's shock absorbers, springs and stabilisers.

This upgrade results in the car's improved slalom times and superior cornering performance, both of which are nearly two per cent better than the previous version.

Despite its more potent nature, the new GT-R NISMO is said to have better overall balance than before, evolving into a car that can be enjoyed on regular roads as well as race circuits.

A more premium and sophisticated interior is one of the key enhancements to the new GT-R and the NISMO version is no exception.

The redesigned dashboard, steering wheel and centre armrest are covered with high-quality Alcantara leather. Unique to this version are the leather-covered Recaro carbon bucket seats with red inserts.

CLASSICS CENTRAL
Auctioneers – A Lazic Classics Enterprise

Five-time world auction record holders Classics Central are back at the Bedford Autodrome on Sunday 30 October with another bumper sale of modern classics and chrome-bumper favourites.

With classic cars on the rise across the country, Classics Central's sales attract significant national attention and in some cases international attention as well, drawing in bidders from the United States, South Africa, mainland Europe and south-east Asia.

Based off the A6 north of Bedford in Thurlough, CC is proud to work on behalf of local people and takes seriously its commitment to service of its local area as well as its international reach.

Headline cars this occasion are a 1965 Mercedes-Benz 230SL "Pagoda", at £60,000-80,000, and a 1989 Ford Sierra "Sapphire" Cosworth, with just 22,744 miles, at £26,000-28,000.

Starter classics include a 1993 Mercedes-Benz E200, with full MoT and just 86,000 miles, for £1,000-1,250 and a 1980 Triumph Spitfire priced at £2,500-3,500.

The lineup is rounded out by a selection of post-war, chrome-bumper Jaguars, with two MkIIs, an S-Type and a MkI all on offer for between £16,000-25,000.

Auctioneer and Managing Director Justin Lazic says "We always enjoy representing the local Bedfordshire area in sales which are now gaining large national and international exposure.

With five world records already achieved, there has never been a better time to offer your classic car at auction - and with many excellent examples still available, the chance to become a classic owner is easier than it's ever been."

Join Classics Central on Sunday 30 October for your slice of the classic car action - and telephone 0800 122 3335 or email cars@classicscentral.co.uk to receive a complimentary printed sale catalogue.

Suzuki Baleno 1.0 Boosterjet SZ5

By: John Murdoch

THERE is no shortage of choice in the supermini class and Suzuki has a couple of strong contenders in the shape of its popular Swift and the recently launched Baleno.

I have been sampling the very practical Baleno which first went on sale in June and is already proving popular with private buyers.

It may seem odd to release the Baleno when the company already has the excellent Swift competing in this crowded market sector but Suzuki feels that there is room for both with the Swift catering for sporty buyers and the Baleno competing on price and practicality.

The Baleno sits on a new platform which will also feature in the next generation Swift and as it is very light this helps the Baleno shine in the performance and economy fronts.

Available with a choice of two power units and two trim levels, the talented Baleno costs from £12,999.

The five-door Baleno is a product of Suzuki's new 'Liquid Flow' design theme and while it is not exciting to look at it is tidy.

Style features include a black grille housing the Suzuki badging, a rear spoiler, chrome tailgate trim, LED daytime running lights, rear privacy glass, electrically-adjustable heated door mirrors and front fog lights as well as 16-inch alloy wheels.

For a supermini it offers bags of technology including sat nav with Apple CarPlay, Bluetooth connectivity, a decent sound system, a clear infotainment screen, a three-spoke leather covered steering wheel, smart nicely lit instrument dials and lots more.

The materials may not be as good as the class leaders but the cabin is user-friendly and roomy. Four adults can travel in real comfort and five could travel for shorter journeys - with head and legroom in back surprisingly generous.

There is bags of standard equipment, such as automatic air conditioning, automatic headlamps, guide me home light function, adaptive cruise control, keyless entry and a DAB digital radio.

The Baleno boasts a 320-litre boot and that can be increased to 756 litres with the 60:40 split-folding rear seats dropped flat. In addition to increase its practical credentials there is a glovebox, central bin, door pockets and a small tray just in front of a couple of cup holders.

Two engines are available in the Baleno - a 1.2 SHV or Smart Hybrid Vehicle which is expected to account for only 15 per cent of sales - or the super little three cylinder 1.0-litre engine fitted to the test car.

It might be small but the willing three-pot, 1.0 Boosterjet is up to the job. It might take 11.4 seconds to reach 62mph but it feels quicker and can go on to 124mph, so it has no problem cruising at motorway speeds.

It can deliver combined fuel economy of 62.7mpg with carbon emissions of 105g/km. Thanks to two fairly long journeys I averaged considerably more than the claimed figure.

Fitted with a five-speed manual gearbox the Baleno's powertrain has bags of character and only felt a bit wheezy on really steep gradients. In town it is an ideal companion and very comfortable on longer journeys.

The Baleno is built in India but feels well screwed together and comes with a long list of safety equipment including anti-lock brakes with electronic brake force distribution, six airbags, a tyre pressure monitoring system, radar brake support with brake assist function, ISOFIX child seat anchorages and childproof door locks.

The competition is certainly fierce but the Baleno is well worth considering if you are looking for a practical, value for money supermini that delivers on all fronts.

GALAXY FLIES OFF FORECOURTS FASTEST

BY: MIKE TORPEY

THE 2012 Ford Galaxy has been crowned the UK's fastest selling used car in September, according to independent research conducted by car site AutoTrader.

The Ford, with diesel engine and automatic transmission, took just 12 days to sell, four days clear of its nearest rival.

Data also shows the Ford Kuga was seventh fastest used car to leave UK showrooms, while in four of the UK regions a Ford used model was quickest to sell.

That included east England where there were five Ford models in the region's top ten fastest selling used cars, including the 2015 Ford Kuga diesel automatic that ranked first with an average of 27 days to sell.

10 FACTS ABOUT THE VOLKSWAGEN GOLF

BY: STEWART SMITH

THE countdown has begun to a major update for the Volkswagen Golf. The best seller has been around for more than four decades and an entire generation has been named after - known as Generation Golf in Germany. No other European car has sold better. By the end of last year, 32,590,025 Golf cars had been sold. In effect, over the last 42 years someone, somewhere in the world, decides to buy a new Golf every 40 seconds. Record-breaking statistics like these have shaped the car's history which will move on with the announcement of some key changes early next month.

Here are 10 facts about the life of the VW Golf:

1. In 2002 the Golf overtook the Beetle as the most popular car in the world when it notched up 21,517,315 sales.
2. By 1988 the Golf had already broken through the ten million vehicles barrier.
3. In 2003, a Golf Mk1 driver broke through one million kilometres on the clock. More "millionaires" followed.
4. The most expensive Golf was a Mk5 model, once owned by the first owner was Pope Benedict XVI, which was auctioned in 2005 for €188,938.
5. German Chancellor Angela Merkel's first Golf, a Mk2, was auctioned in 2012 and sold for €10,156.
6. More than 2,000 new Golf cars have been produced and sold every day for the past four decades.
7. Only 730 days after its debut, the millionth Golf was delivered.
8. The most powerful Golf ever was the GTI W12-650 with 650bhp on tap. It was presented in 2007 at the GTI meet at Wörthersee.
9. The Golf is currently manufactured in five factories in Germany, Brazil, China and Mexico and is exported to 155 countries.
10. The Golf is the only car in the world which is available with electric, hybrid, petrol, diesel and gas powered engine options.

SKODA KODIAQ PRICES REVEALED BY: STEWART SMITH

SKODA has announced prices and specifications for the all-new Kodiaq SUV ahead of its UK debut early next year. It's Skoda's first seven-seater and will start from £21,495 when ordering starts in November and will be available from launch in four trim levels, five engine options, two and four-wheel drive, and a choice of manual or DSG gearboxes. The range comprises three trims, S, SE and SE L along with a new Edition grade to mark the arrival of the Czech brand's first seven-seater SUV. Standard equipment on the S model includes LED daytime running lights, 17-inch alloy wheels, leather multifunction steering wheel and manual air-conditioning. They also feature a touchscreen infotainment system, DAB digital radio and SmartLink for smartphone connectivity. The S model is available with a 1.4 TSI 125ps engine only. SE models come in at £22,945 and are available with a broad range of engine and transmission options.

Standard spec includes 18-inch alloy wheels, sunset glass, cruise control and rear parking sensors. There is also Skoda's Bolero touchscreen infotainment system with eight-inch display, dual-zone climate control, rain and light sensors and auto-dimming rear view mirrors. Seven seats are available as a £1,000 option in this trim. Further up the range, SE L models start from £28,595 and feature higher levels of kit including seven seats as standard, powered tailgate, 19-inch alloy wheels, and Columbus navigation system with Wi-Fi. A multi-mode drive control, Alcantara upholstery, heated front seats and full LED headlights are also standard on SE L models. Topping the range is the new Edition grade which cost from £30,695 and standard equipment includes 19-inch alloy wheels, seven seats, leather upholstery, metallic paint and chrome roof rails. Technology features include a lane keeping assistance system, automatic high beam lamps, wireless phone charging and blind spot detection. As well as the 125ps TSI engine the Kodiaq will also be available with two more powerful petrol engines, a 1.4-litre engine developing 150ps and a 180ps 2.0-litre while on the diesel front it will be powered three versions of Skoda's 2.0-litre engine developing either 115, 150 or 180ps.

MITSUBISHI LAUNCHES SPECIAL EDITION PHEV

BY: STEWART SMITH

A HIGH specification special edition of the Outlander plug-in hybrid called the Juro is being released by Mitsubishi. The Juro is being offered at £32,749, the same price as the Outlander PHEV GX3h+ on which it is based, and comes with a touchscreen CD/DVD infotainment unit with TomTom satellite navigation, smartphone integration and DAB radio as standard. The exterior is enhanced with a new-look to the bonnet featuring a prominent Outlander emblem. Mitsubishi claims that the Outlander hybrid is the UK's best-selling plug-in hybrid electric vehicle and the new offering comes fully loaded with features, including cruise control, 18-inch alloy wheels, heated front seats, the Mitsubishi PHEV app allowing for remote control of certain functions and dual-zone climate control. The Outlander PHEV can travel up to 32 miles in electric mode alone and has been acknowledged as a breakthrough model in the UK's emerging plug-in hybrid sector. With a rechargeable petrol-electric powertrain the Outlander PHEV has a theoretical fuel return of 156mpg and emissions of 42g/km making it hugely attractive to business users. In 2013, the year before its arrival, the total plug-in hybrid market across all marques stood at just 989. Mitsubishi has sold more than 25,000 Outlander PHEVs in the UK since its launch in 2014, making it the nation's favourite plug-in vehicle.

Whole of rugby pays its respects to an Irish great

THE European Rugby Champions Cup is one of the competitions I look forward to the most, as the standard of its matches are often a match for international rugby.

Thanks to my job, it's also a competition I've been privileged to cover and there is a special feel about the atmosphere at these games that makes it feel 'big time'.

But the opening round of this season's edition was sharply put into perspective by the sudden death of Munster head coach Anthony Foley at the age of 42 in the team's hotel in Paris last Sunday.

What was happening out on the pitch didn't feel like it mattered after hearing that Irish rugby had lost one of its true greats and the sport in this part of the world came to a virtual standstill.

As a player, Foley was a brilliant back row forward who played a big part in taking Munster to the top of the club game, while helping to drag the Ireland national team out of the doldrums.

He'd been tasked with doing the same as head coach with a Munster side that has struggled with losing legends like Paul O'Connell, Ronan O'Gara and Alan Quinlan in recent years since being appointed in 2013.

His passing had shades of Gary Speed's five years ago, although on this occasion it was down to natural causes – in this case a build-up of fluid in the lungs as a result of a heart condition.

But where this tragedy shared a similarity with Speed's is that both were universally liked in their respective sport – one of the good guys had been taken from us much too soon.

I can remember the feeling of goodwill when Foley captained Munster to Heineken Cup glory in 2006 after so many near misses, due to the way it felt like the culmination of an odyssey not just for the province but for the man himself.

Sport on sunday

Much in the way it felt when Dan Carter got his hands on the Rugby World Cup last year, or how it would have felt if Steven Gerrard had won the Premier League with Liverpool in 2014 rather than fall over at a crucial moment.

His death also brought a scene that I'm not ashamed to admit brought a tear to my eye, when the Munster fans who had travelled to Paris gathered outside Racing 92's Stade Yves-du-Manoir and sang 'Fields of Athenry'.

It was just as moving seeing the size of the crowds that gathered in Limerick during the week when his coffin was driven through the city, including past the front gates on Munster's Thomond Park ground.

Munster's fans are a unique bunch in rugby and their tributes to a man who they felt was one of their own at yesterday's Champions Cup match with Glasgow will live as long as Foley's name.

GOING STRONG: New leaders Luton have won all five of their league fixtures so far this season

RUGBY UNION

IT was first versus second in Midlands Two this weekend, with second-placed Luton RFC travelling to leaders Oadby Wyggestonians.

In the end, a 28-22 victory for the visitors meant Luton leapfrogged their hosts in the division and are now four points clear at the top of the table thanks to a 100 per cent start to their league campaign, with five games played.

We knew it was going to be a tough one," said Luton manager Steve Evans, "so that was a sweet win.

"We dominated the first half, but they were more of a challenge after the break. I think we took our foot off the gas a bit and they came back into the game."

Scoring the tries for Luton were Rik Hobbs [2], Dwayne Duff, and Tyler Chant, with Hobbs adding two penalties and a conversion.

"We lost a little bit of focus in the second half," said Evans "but in defence we were brilliant – we need to give full credit to our forwards today because they shocked us in what they delivered, they were unbelievable."

Stockwood Park continue to find life tough in the London leagues as they lost 42-7 away at Belsize Park.

"We actually played much better this week," said Park president Mark Lovell. "They're a very good side and top of the league. It was an improved performance all round, and to be 35-7 down at the interval and keep them to just one score in the second half is encouraging."

Martin Rowe scored Park's only try, converted by Steve Pollock.

In Midlands Three, second-placed Dunstablians beat Biggleswade 34-5 to keep the pressure on the league-leaders Stewarts & Lloyds, as they are currently three points ahead of the Dees by way of their 100 per cent start to the league campaign.

"It was another superb tactical performance with ruthless execution," said Dees' Scott Warren, "that allowed the backs to play a fast, free flowing, game and score out wide."

FANCY MOVES: Cameron McGeehan celebrates bringing Luton level against Mansfield

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

CAMERON McGeehan nailed a wonderful strike to rescue a point against Mansfield in a 1-1 League Two draw and then revealed the tip that former Hatters hitman Andre Gray gave him for scoring more goals.

The 21-year-old says private shooting lessons with Superior Striker Coaching head honcho Alan Russell have been helping as he registered his second in two weeks and took his season's tally level with Town's top marksman Danny Hylton, both now on eight goals.

The coaching consultancy firm, run by former Scottish league striker Russell, has helped a series of high profile goalscorers to hone their skills including the current Burnley man, who made his name at Kenilworth Road in Luton's 2014 Conference-winning season.

"Andre gave me the number because he does a hell of a lot of work with him," said McGeehan of Russell, adding: "He's on [Gray] a slightly better wage so he can enjoy a few more sessions, but I got in contact with him and did a few sessions last year.

It makes you think about different ball strikes. He films it and it's detailed.

"Sometimes I have to come away from it and not do too many sessions because it makes me overthink it sometimes, but it helps me with all parts of my game. We do touches, shooting and it helps because I'm hitting the back of the net and it gives me a positive mindset going into the game."

McGeehan revealed earlier this term that he also regularly pays for sports psychology stints to help with the mental side of the game and he added: "I do look at other avenues.

"I do a bit of work with Alan Russell. I don't see him all the time because it's quite expensive, but I try to see him when I can. That type of shot that I hit [against Mansfield] is something that we do work on quite a lot.

"It was worth it today, but I think I've always had that knack of getting in the right areas at the right time, but I try to look at other things.

"I do a lot of work with Joaquin [Gomez – Luton first team coach], the gaffer [Nathan Jones] and Kev [Dearden] the goalie coach about different finishing drills, which all help. I do stuff with Hylts [Hylton] and Jack [Marriott] as well, so I'm always working on that side of my game and it's good at the minute."

McGeehan is a smash hit

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON TOWN 1
MANSFIELD TOWN 1

BABY, baby, baby, oh' – what a hit from Cameron McGeehan.

The Luton midfielder's tender 21 years may explain a debatable taste in pop poser Justin Bieber but he provided the only rock 'n' roll moment to rescue a point against Mansfield.

He may have never heard of Mick Jagger but somehow his goal struck a chord with the 1969 classic 'You Can't Always Get What You Want'. You see, if you try sometimes you get what you need. Luton needed inspiration. McGeehan hummed the tune.

At the moment, he is a rolling stone that gathers no moss, as his 25-yarder nestled into the bottom corner to seal a share of the spoils that, up until that point, they had struggled to fully convince they deserved. For the most part, this was League Two football at its most League Two-est.

Though he was deployed in a more unusual deeper role, his second strike in successive weeks moved the goalscorer to eight for the season and now joint top with Town hitman Danny Hylton. The striker was conspicuous by his absence, sat on the sidelines serving a one-match suspension, and his team-mates struggled for a focal point.

But boss Nathan Jones eluded to McGeehan's strike-rate after last week's exploits at Leyton Orient and he showed again exactly why he's so valuable to this Luton side. It was why the midfielder made a celebratory beeline for his boss. One good turn deserves another, after all.

The Hatters were incoherently bewildering in a first half where they began with five solid minutes of ponderous passing. Mansfield, who managed just a few touches during that time, then typically took the lead on ten minutes with their first corner. Their first effort on goal.

Rhys Bennett headed forward and Matt Green nodded in. Basic, economical football and far, far too simple, making for a ninth straight league game without a clean sheet.

At least for those opening exchanges there looked to be a game plan, but that dissipated quickly and the rest of the first half was played almost exclusively in the Hatters' half.

Jack Marriott cut a lonely figure up front with his strike partner missing, but he was protesting for a penalty soon after his side fell behind. A neat turn left Krystian Pearce on the turf and when the striker tried to push it past the prostrate defender, a hand appeared to halt his momentum.

With the visitors comfortable, but offering little to threaten Christian Walton's goal, a rare home foray forward saw Jordan Cook squirm into the box and curl just wide of the post. Town had to wait for another 23 minutes for something approaching an effort on goal when Jake Gray curled just past the top corner.

Inspiration continued to evade the hosts as the clocked ticked past an hour and, when they did fashion a chance, so too did a finishing touch. In theory there would be few left pegs in the Luton squad that you'd want a Glen Rea header to drop to, 12 yards out, than Alan Sheehan. The reality was that the defender slashed at golden opportunity. At that stage it looked like another one of those frustrating afternoons, where nothing would go right.

But Luton upped the ante with a double substitution on 68 minutes and Pelly-Ruddock Mpanzu and Isaac Vassell gave them more forward thrust.

Nine minutes later they were back on terms when, like last week, Marriott and McGeehan combined with the latter rattling into the bottom corner.

And that strike, brought an injection of adrenaline that lifted Kenilworth Road.

Scott Cuthbert shaped to score in the 83rd minute but his curler was beaten away by Scott Shearer. Then, with the final kick, five minutes into injury time, Marriott looked to have hit a peach but his shot curled just wide of the top corner.

It was head in hands stuff for the striker but at least there was one smash hit from this game that you'll want to play on repeat.
